

SEIU: rejected and desperate

SEIU's Washington, D.C. officials are reeling after being kicked to the curb by 91,000 workers at more than 350 facilities.

They're resorting to desperate measures to make us stay—empty threats, feeble lies, and now a nuisance lawsuit against our union's leaders.

How embarrassing! SEIU is riddled with corrupt officials that President Andy Stern promoted and protected, like Tyrone Freeman, Annelle Grajeda, Rickman Jackson, and Byron Hobbs.

SEIU is laying off at least 140 of its own staff because of financial blunders like their losing battle against California healthcare workers.

But instead of cleaning themselves up and creating a union that workers would want to be a part of, they're wasting more of our dues dollars on frivolous lawsuits and publicity stunts. They can't win us over, so they're trying to stop our elections.

After years of struggle against national SEIU bosses, we're on the verge of victory. Now is the time when it's most important to contribute to support our union so we can finally send them back to Washington, D.C. forever.

"I've been an elected shop steward for 18 years, and Dave Regan and Eliseo Medina think they can keep me quiet. They need to face reality—they're not our union anymore! I'm running to be an NUHW steward and contributing $100.00 a month to beat their dirty tricks and send them packing!"

—Lisa Tomasian,
Radiology Tech, Kaiser Santa Clara

Join NUHW—the union we trust.
Sign up today at www.NUHW.org/Join

If you can't join online, ask your steward for a sign-up form. If you don't have a debit or credit card, you can still join by giving your steward a check for your contribution, made payable to NUHW.